HILO, May 30—One more record is to be painted on the now well-decorated sides of The Advertiser Dodge pilot car which is completing its work of mapping the tourist attractions and roads of the Big Island.

With an elapsed time of exactly eleven hours, the Pilot Dodge negotiated the two hundred and thirty-four miles constituting the around the island belt road, and thereby hung up a new time record for the run around Hawaii. It is a record that will stand, probably, for some time.

The car made better than the average of twenty-one miles an hour indicated by the elapsed time, for it included a total of one hour, spent in changing tires, which was done six times, as well as a stop for gasoline.

as a stop for gasoline.

Bad stretches of the road reduced the driving average greatly in some parts of the route, the time being made up on the better stretches of roadway. Thus it required one hour to negotiate the ten miles over the rough and muddy Keeamoku Plains.

Mith Tom Duggan driving the car left Hilo at seventeen minutes to two this morning, going by way of Kau. The car returned to Hilo again seven-teen minutes to one this afternoon. Island boosters are enthusiastic over
